SPOTLIGHTING

The Reserve Directors

CDR Martin is a native Bay Stater. He was born in New Bedford, Mass., attended high school and business school in Methuen, and later studied for two years at the Lowell Technological School.

In August 1919 he enlisted in the U. S. Army, and served in France, in Motor Truck Company 549, until November 1919. Following his discharge from the Army he served two years with the New York State Police.

He enlisted in the Coast Guard in August 1925, progressing through various ratings to YNC. During his enlisted career he served at the Coast Guard Academy; CGC REDWING; Base One, Atlantic City, N. J.; CGC YAMACRAW; Office of the Coast Guard Representative, New York Navy Yard; Destroyer SHAW; and First District Procurement Office.

CDR Martin was promoted to warrant officer in March 1943, and commissioned in June of the same year. He served as Chief, Enlisted Personnel, First District throughout World War II. Following his release to inactive duty on 30 June 1946 he entered the real estate business in New Hampshire.

He was recalled to extended active duty in 1950, and assigned to the Reserve Division at Headquarters, where he served until 1953. At that time he was assigned to the First Coast Guard District, first as Chief of Military Personnel, and from

CDR Frederic N. Martin, USCGR
Eighth District

1954 to 1956 as Assistant Director of the Reserve.

On 1 October 1956 he reported to the Eighth Coast Guard District as Assistant Director of the Reserve, and on 10 July 1959 began his present assignment as Director of the Reserve.

Reserve Policy Board Will Convene November 30

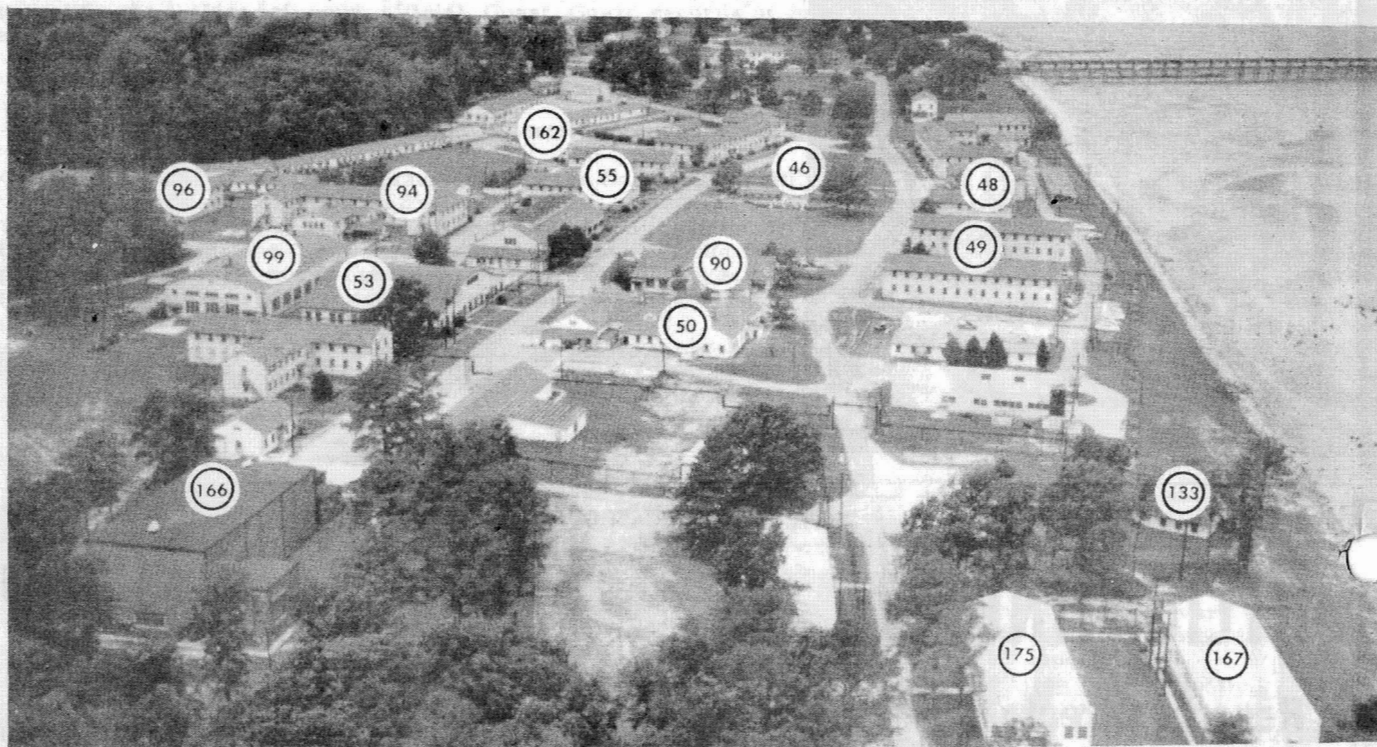

On 30 November 1959, the annual Reserve Policy Board will convene at Coast Guard Headquarters to consider recommendations submitted by district policy boards which met during the first quarter of the fiscal year. All recommendations are carefully considered and reported to the Secretary of the Treasury and the Commandant, with the recommendations of the Headquarters Board on each.

CAPT John J. Gidiere, USCGR, CGD8, has been appointed senior member. Other members are CAPT Roger M. Dudley, USCG, CGD11; CDR Charles F. Reilly, Jr., USCGR, CGD5; CDR Norman B. Hall, Jr., USCGR, CGD3; CDR Allie B. Angle, USCGR, CGD7; CDR John B. Speaker, Jr., USCG, HQ; CDR Silas B. Cain, USCGR, CGD2; CDR Allan B. O'Brien, USCGR, CGD1; LCDR Elizabeth B. Hall, USCGR, CGD9; and LT Charles Maxwell, USCG, HQ, Recorder. CAPT Gidiere, CAPT Dudley, CDR Reilly and CDR Hall were members of last year's Board. CDR Victor Pfeiffer, USCG, HQ, and CDR Richard E. Bacchus, USCGR, CGD5, are alternate members.

held at Lake Charles, Louisiana.

And for any of you mathematicians who may have taken umbrage at the last statement in "13-13-13," same issue - we know now that the reciprocal of any number is unity, or one divided by that number, and the reciprocal of 13 is 1/13.

Here is Your New Reserve Training Center . . .

Building Identification: (46) Korean Hall, Classroom; (48) Administration; (49) Barracks; (50) Mess Hall; (53) Gymnasium; (55) Classroom; (90) Mess Hall; (94) and (96) Bachelor Officer Quarters; (99) Pool; (133) Officers' Club; (162) Exchange; (166) Theater and EM Club; (167) and (175) Classrooms.

During the summer of 1960, many reservists who previously have performed their active duty for training within the limits of their own districts will be going to the new Reserve Training Center at Yorktown, Va., shown in the aerial view

Tentative plans now call for the discontinuance of Port Security Training at Curtis Bay, Md., Law Enforcement Training at the University of Ind., Basic Firefighting at the University of Md., and Dangerous Cargo Handling at Ft. Eustis, Va. However, the exceptionally fine facilities at Ft. Eustis will continue to be available for the Dangerous Cargo classes convening at Yorktown, as Ft. Eustis is only 8 miles away, and strong consideration is being given to the establishment of an Advanced Firefighting School at the University of Md. The Port Security Programs conducted by the 1st District at Castle Hill Lifeboat Station, the 3rd at Gloucester, N. J., and the 7th at Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, will be continued and will include personnel from the 2nd, 8th, and possibly the 9th Districts.

Despite the distances involved, a limited number of quotas have been assigned to the West Coast and 14th Districts. These are, for the most part, confined to schools which have no counterpart on the West Coast. The Direct Commission and Command Schools conducted at Alameda, the Law Enforcement School at San Jose and the Fire Fighting School at the University of Southern Calif., will be continued, as will Port Security Training within each district. Space and budgetary limitations permitting, it is hoped that in the future these districts may make steadily increasing use of Yorktown.

The preliminary schedule, recently promulgated to all districts, consists of 12 programs--6 for officers, 4 for enlisted and 2 command--carried over a total training period of 12 weeks beginning 12 June and concluding on 3 September. Here are the courses as they now stand:

direct commissioned officers only, covering basic indoctrination of CG and COTP, and review of basic professional requirements for all officers. 3 classes--10 and 24 July, 7 August

Command School. For recently appointed and prospective CO's, XO's, and training officers of ORTUS. Course will cover entire administrative indoctrination of ORTUS, delve into current training problems and trends, and mobilization plans and procedures along with organization and operational functions of a wartime COTP. 4 classes--12 and 26 June, 10 and 24 July.

Port Security School (O). Designed especially for the junior ORTUPS officers and Direct Commission officers with limited or no COTP background. Course to cover entire Port Security program, training operations, mobilization, P.S. regulations, etc. 4 classes--10 and 24 July, 7 and 21 August.

Reserve Officer Refresher School. To provide suitable ACDUTRA courses covering reserve officer professional requirements. Available to all reserve officers on inactive duty. 3 classes--12 and 26 June, 21 August

Disability Benefits Limited to Actual Drill Periods

The Comptroller General in a recent decision (B-139000 dated 17 June 1959) again makes clear that the benefits of 10 USC 6148 are inactive duty training, to injuries incurred during periods when they are actually on training duty, i.e., beginning with muster and ending with dismissal.

In the decision, the Comptroller General discussed the case of a Marine Reservist who was injured shortly after his arrival at a Government barracks on a drill day. It was determined that the injury was incurred in line of duty and not as a result of misconduct and that the quarters were properly furnished to him. Nevertheless, it was held that the Reservist was not entitled to the benefits of 10 USC 6148, since he was not, at the time of injury, actually employed in inactive duty training. Thus, it appears that even though, by custom, Reservists may be permitted on the premises and furnished quarters or Government transportation prior to actual in-

Reserve Pistol Team Again Fires in National Matches

Continuing a policy established in 1956, a ten-man pistol team represented the Coast Guard Reserve in the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. These ten shooters, drawn from a cross-section of reserve units across the nation, trained with the regular All Coast Guard Team at Cape May, New Jersey, prior to participating in the National Matches. The shooters, and the units they represent are:

LCDR Richard B. McMAHILL
VTU 05-8, Washington, D. C.
LCDR Edward J. WALSH
ASP, New York, N. Y.
LCDR Wallace G. ANGEL
ORTUPS 05-149, Washington,
D. C.
ORTUPS 13-930, Seattle,
Wash.
Active Duty, Seattle, Wash.
STACKHOUSE, Clyde E., GMC
ORTUAG 03-628, Fort Hancock, N. J.
JOHNSTON, Robert L., EN1
ORTUPS 09-668, Milwaukee,
Wisc.
McFADDEN, Francis X., ESG1
ORTUPS 05-146, Washington,
D. C.
DEHLIN, David J. YN2
ORTUPS 11-230, San Pedro,
Calif.
KIELY, John P., SN
ORTUPS 02-565, Covington,
La.

Competing against approximately 350 other reservists from all branches of the service, these men won a total of 25 individual awards. Particularly outstanding was DEHLIN, who placed 3rd in the sharpshooter grand aggregate class.

LCDR ANGEL fired a fine score in the National Trophy Individual Pistol Match to win a bronze medal and a leg toward the coveted Dis-active duty training, and may be permitted to mess on the premises between drill periods on a multiple drill day, any injury incurred at such time is not covered by 10 USC 6148.

Notify Your Commander of Change of Address

Whenever you move or change your mailing address, you are required to notify the holder of your official Coast Guard records of your new address.

Report address changes as follows:

- (a) If not a member of a unit: direct to the district commander holding your records.
- (b) If affiliated with a unit: to the district commander via the commanding officer of your unit.
- (c) If an officer on Inactive Status List: to the Commandant (PR), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C.

A temporary change of residence does not require a transfer of records. However, if you have a temporary residence but mail cannot be delivered promptly, you should notify the holder of your records of your address at the beginning and end of your temporary residence.

"R. I. P."

Gerald Miszewski, DC3 (ESG) of ORTUPS 09-668, Milwaukee, Wisc., recently received a "purple heart" and a commendation from his commanding officer.

Miszewski was in charge of a port security patrol protecting the Port of Milwaukee from a mock attack by a group of skindivers in a recent training exercise here. While Miszewski was talking on a walkie talkie a frogman silently got behind him and sprayed a cloud of white powder at his back representing a knife stab.

Dutifully Miszewski continued his radio conversation with, "I am sorry to report that I have just been killed. Please send a replacement."

Miszewski's commanding officer was quick to notice the man's devotion to duty and gave him the following commendation:

"This command wishes to convey its gratitude and commendation for your extreme devotion to duty during a recent Port Security training exercise. For the first time in Coast Guard history a dead man has reported his fatal condition to his superiors and refused to relinquish his post until a suitable replacement could be found. You have set an example for the entire Coast Guard that will be difficult to duplicate. May you rest in peace."
